

Ohio Law allows EMERGENCY CONTACT INFORMATION on a driver's license

An Ohio law has been passed to allow drivers to put 2 emergency contacts on their Ohio driver's license to enable police to locate family members in the event of an accident.

This can be done on line. The link below is to the specific web page for checking your driving record and adding next of kin information to your driving record.

NOTE: *Nothing will appear on the person's driver's license itself.
The information is available only to law enforcement officers through LEADS-Law Enforcement Automated Data System.
